This workshop will focus on painting the landscape in whatever medium you choose. Gary will demonstrate pastel painting for a part of each day building paintings from concept to final touch. There will be exercises to strengthen your design skills and you will learn how Gary uses light and atmosphere to create mood and drama. He will help you to see work as a show judge sees it and gently offer ideas for improvement. Any skill level is welcome with regard to landscape painting or pastel. Those working in a medium other than pastel need to be able to handle their medium with some proficiency. Students will be responsible for providing their own supplies for indoor painting. A material list will be provided upon request or registration. You are welcome to bring one or two examples of your work for critique.

About the Instructor: Gary Huber is an award-winning landscape painter who works mainly in the pastel medium. He makes his home in Wyoming but travels from Maine to California in search of scenes to inspire his dramatic pastel paintings. He is perhaps best known for images of water and snow but whatever the subject, it will be done in a harmonious palette with strong light and atmospheric effects which combined with dramatic composition have become his signature look. He works both plein air and in the studio.

Gary is a member of the Western Masters and has won both the Landscape and Purchase awards in recent WRVAG National shows. He took Best of Show in Pastels in Light 2013. He has exhibited at the Butler Institute of American Art, The National Arts Club and is a regular exhibitor at The Brinton Museum. He holds signature membership in Pastel Society of America, Northwest Pastel Society, Pastel Society of the Northern Rockies, Master Signature membership in Pastel Society of Colorado and is a member of the Master Circle of the International Association of Pastel Societies.
